Milan, 27th-28th-29th May 2010

The 6th edition of audiovisiva, the festival run by esterni – realized in collaboration with Frigoriferi Milanesi and Open Care – will take place from the 27th to the 29th of May in Palazzo del Ghiaccio, Milan. It will be dedicated to the exploration of contemporary non-conventional expressive languages and to the experimentation of technologies applied to music, images and interactivity.

Three days of live concerts, installations and DJ sets thought not only to meet and find out the evolution of the most significative international and Italian artists, but also to reconsider the concept of electronic music itself, a genre that keeps on looking for new stimulations and open to contaminations in order to regain the warmth of sound.

The cast features the opening live “ambience” performance by audioscan –milano, with the real time images by Quayola, the structured chill out by the “subconscious composers” Tim Hecker and Ben Frost, the post-minimalism by Greg Haines - ready to perform in an amazing piano concert at first dawn on Sunday. What’s more, the coming back of The Book, with a new collage made of music and images, the overwhelming show by the “globetrotter” Filastine, the psychedelic world in Technicolor by Richard Norris aka The Time & Space Machine, the synthpop from the future by The Field, the surreal electroclash by the Chicks On Speed and much more.

Music performer and music to dance to. The producer Actress arrives directly from South London with his hugely stylish remixes of garage, house and techno, and the unpredictable Zomby, a volcanic and relentless ex-raver loved by fashion stylists and Lady Gaga thanks to his 8-bit music.
